More time = more money.
Give your staff the information they need to improve performance.

Reduced administrative effort // Because report delivery can be scheduled to run at pre-determined times, such as the same time each week, users can deliver their reports to team members while focusing on more strategic initiatives and tasks.

Reduced User Error // By automating the report delivery process, the risk of forgetting to deliver regularly scheduled (daily, weekly, or monthly) reports can be eliminated.

Captures Real-Time Data // Scheduled reports are configured to pull the real-time data elements at the time of delivery, providing up to the minute information for improved decision making.

Easy to Configure and Maintain // Launchpad Scheduler can be configured using easy-to-use menus and forms. This gives non-technical staff members the ability to configure and maintain the scheduling and report generation functions, freeing valuable IT resources to concentrate on more strategic issues.

Microsoft Office Integration // Launchpad scheduler is fully integrated with Microsoft Outlook, so that reports can be delivered using standard office productivity tools that users are already familiar with.
