

Synergy Resources LLC Welcomes a New Partner, Strengthening Its ERP Acumen for Manufacturing and Distribution

Synergy Resources, LLC (“Synergy”) is pleased to welcome Paul Tedford as a new partner in the firm. This move reinforces the firm’s commitment to delivering the best fit Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) solutions and supporting services to manufacturing and distribution companies. Paul has also been instrumental in developing Synergy’s rapidly growing strategic consulting services, bringing deep expertise in business processes, technology infrastructure, and enterprise applications.

Continuing in his current role as CEO, Paul Tedford will now also take a place among Synergy’s ownership team. This move reinforces Synergy’s commitment to customer service excellence, helping manufacturers and distributors achieve their strategic and tactical goals within their respective market space.

“It’s an honor to continue leading Synergy as we deliver on our mission to help manufacturers and distributors reach their full potential,” said Tedford. “We are committed to providing a truly turnkey and scalable experience, from initial implementation built around best practices and systematic change management, to continuous improvement processes overseen by our Synergy Center of Excellence and Synergy Innovation Center. Our commitment is always being ready for any need you have today or in the future and being a long-term partner.”

Gene Caiola, Co-Founder, commented on the value Tedford brings to the organization, “Paul has demonstrated his ability to strategically plan our firm’s direction as well as provide the leadership required to expand our practice into new and exciting areas within the Industry 4.0 and Smart Factory markets. Under his continued guidance we expect to grow considerably over the next five years as we expand our market offerings.”

Mark Lilly, Co-Founder, emphasized, “Paul’s experience and success in matching people’s specific industry needs with the right processes and supporting software product is unparalleled. We are confident Paul and his team are uniquely suited to take Synergy to the next level in terms of providing rapid and lasting benefits to manufacturers and distributors for years to come.”

As Infor’s Partner of the Year in the Manufacturing vertical, and an Acumatica and LillyWorks Gold Partner in the Distribution and Manufacturing verticals, Synergy is uniquely positioned to deliver services that lead to operational excellence, financial clarity, and intelligent risk management, both for established companies as well as start-up ventures.
